The Golden Mile Update

Providing an update on the progress of The Golden Mile, Ms Dawn TAN (陈温温), Chief Operating Officer, Singapore & Regional (excluding China) of Perennial Holdings, said on behalf of the consortium, “Sales of medical suites and office units at The Golden Mile have not yet started. We have invested significant effort in developing The Golden Mile's unique offerings and we are allowing time for agents and potential buyers to understand and appreciate the distinctive features of our medical suites and the various office options. Agents are currently in different stages of discussions with their potential buyers.

Early bird pricing starts from $3,100 psf or $2.4mil for an office unit and $3,500 psf or $2.6mil for a medical suite, offering an attractive opportunity for businesses and investors looking to own a commercial space in Singapore's first conserved large-scale Brutalist development. We plan to begin taking bookings for the different product types in phases and we will announce their booking phases in due course. We will also share sales progress updates once the booking process is underway.”

Blending Iconic Heritage & Urban Tropicality

Aurea captures the essence of The Golden Mile's conserved Brutalist architectural brilliance and balances it with a fresh take on contemporary urban tropical living. The thoughtfully reinterpreted elements, including the oculus windows, Mondrian-inspired fenestration and hanging gardens, evoke the architectural past within a modern setting. Designed as a tranquil retreat within the heart of the city, Aurea balances lush greenery with urban vibrancy, offering multiple sky terraces, light-filled interiors and balconies that offer sweeping city and bay views.

Said Mr SEAH Chee Huang (余志煌), Chief Executive Officer of DP Architects, "The design of Aurea pays tribute to the iconic Golden Mile Complex, celebrating its enduring legacy as part of the refreshed development. Inspired by the grand dame's distinctive features, its design expression incorporates reinterpreted elements such as tropical verandahs, oculus motifs, and ceramic mosaics, alongside a vertical array of hanging gardens and quality communal spaces, fostering a sense of connection and well-being. Together with The Golden Mile, Aurea celebrates the fusion of heritage and modern urban living, infusing the locale with renewed vibrancy and a distinctive identity."

Biophilic Design for a Tranquil Urban Oasis

Aurea's biophilic design approach creates a tranquil urban retreat from the bustling city life. The development features multiple sky terraces, sweeping sea-facing balconies, and lush sky gardens inspired by the conserved The Golden Mile's 'Hanging Gardens' concept. Tranquil viewing gardens and a lower sky terrace are visually aligned with levels 9 and 18 of The Golden Mile, harmonising the two towers into a cohesive architectural narrative.

Exclusive Residences

Aurea features 188 residential units ranging from 59 sqm to 819 sqm comprising the Prestige and Signature Collections, along with the exclusive Sky Villa Collection. Each unit is thoughtfully crafted to maximise light, space and functionality:

- The Prestige Collection consists of two- and three-bedroom units (59 to 93 sqm) with wall-to-wall windows that frame breathtaking city views.
- The Signature Collection offers spacious four-bedroom apartments (134 and 167 sqm) with private lift access and balconies with floor-to-ceiling sliding glass doors that present sweeping vistas of the serene bay framed by sky gardens on alternate levels.

These exclusive residences come with private lift access for added convenience. Uniquely for the triplex penthouse, it stands out with its own private pool, providing an unparalleled living experience. All Sky Villa units are fitted with premium appliances from renowned brands.

Curated Facilities for Elevated Living

Residents can immerse themselves in a variety of thoughtfully curated facilities that elevate everyday living. Take a dip in the infinity pools on levels 3 and 33, recharge at the well-equipped gym and bouldering wall, or unwind in the tranquil spa facilities. Rock and hammock gardens, and an intimate indoor lounge provide peaceful retreats, while dining pavilions on levels 3 and 17 offer perfect settings for hosting loved ones. Viewing decks across multiple floors showcase spectacular vistas of the sea, Marina Bay, the Kallang River, and city skyline.

For added convenience, Aurea is seamlessly connected to The Golden Mile via a direct link bridge on level 2, providing easy access to a variety of retail and F&B options.

Prime Connectivity & Vibrant Location

QUOTES BY SPOKESPERSONS OF AUREA'S APPOINTED JOINT MARKETING AGENCIES

1. ERA Singapore's Chief Executive Officer (ERA 产业总裁), Marcus Chu (朱泳强) on Aurea's diverse unit offerings designed to appeal to the affluent lifestyles of CCR homebuyers:

"Located within the Downtown Core and just minutes to the CBD, Aurea boasts a wide selection of floorplates, designed to appeal to discerning owner-occupiers and investors alike. The two- and three-bedroom units that make up some 60 per cent of the development will appeal to homebuyers and investors looking for well-designed city-living apartments. The larger 4-bedders and penthouses, with their sizeable floorplates and breathtaking views of the city skyline or the Southern coastline, complements the affluent lifestyles of CCR homebuyers."

2. Huttons Asia's CEO, Mark Yip (叶润明), highlights Aurea's role in transforming the Nicoll precinct, supported by government-led rejuvenation plans for the southern coastline and incentives to conserve iconic landmarks:

"Aurea sits on the site of the former Golden Mile Complex in the Nicoll precinct, one of the first projects to receive conservation incentives by the URA. Positioned along Nicoll Highway with views of the Kallang Basin, Aurea will be part of an iconic integrated development that redefines city living.

During the 2024 National Day Rally, Prime Minister Wong announced plans to transform the entire southern coastline, a 120-km waterfront stretch spanning the Greater Southern Waterfront, Marina Bay, Kallang Basin and the future Long Island project. This underscores the Government's commitment to revitalise the Nicoll precinct, a 59-ha area that will see new residential and recreational developments developed alongside the future Bay Central Garden.

In 2024, the government has also incentivised the redevelopment of Golden Mile Tower by offering a bonus gross floor area for conserving the iconic cinema block.

These ongoing rejuvenation plans will further enhance the appeal and livability of the Nicoll precinct in the years to come.

When completed, Aurea will stand as a distinctive and iconic residential development in Singapore, blending heritage with modernity to shape a vibrant future."

3. PropNex’s Chief Executive Officer, Ismail Gafoor emphasises Aurea’s potential to invigorate the CCR market as the first new private residential project in District 7 in 4 years, leveraging pent-up demand and its prime location in the revitalised Downtown Core:

“We expect the upcoming launch of Aurea could enliven the Core Central Region (CCR) market. The highly anticipated project will be the first new private residential offering to be launched in District 7 in about four years. As the majority of the units at past launches in the district have been sold, we believe Aurea may enjoy some pent-up demand for new homes in the area and could attract healthy interest among prospective homebuyers and investors.

Located in Beach Road in Singapore’s Downtown Core, Aurea is well-positioned to tap benefits from the ongoing transformation in and around the precinct, including the revitalisation of the Ophir-Rochor corridor, rejuvenation of the Beach Road-Bugis area, as well as upcoming development plans for Kampong Bugis and the Kallang Alive sports and lifestyle destination nearby.

The buyers today are prioritising quality projects near an MRT station and essential amenities, and we think Aurea will meet their requirements - being a short walk to the Nicoll Highway MRT station on the Circle Line, and near the bustling arts, cultural, entertainment, retail and education offerings in the Bras Basah/Bugis/Suntec area. It offers all the convenience of city living with a generous serving of culture and history on the side.”

Footnote:

- Previous new launch in District 7 was Midtown Modern in 2021
- Sales at recent launches in D7: Launched in 2019, Midtown Bay is 63% sold based on caveats lodged up till 3 Jan 2025; Launched in 2020, The M is 100% sold; Launched in 2021, Midtown Modern is 100% sold. The 82 units unsold at Midtown Bay represent 6% of the total units (1,299 units) offered in the three projects collectively

4. SRI’s Managing Partner, Ken Low on how Aurea redefines urban living in Singapore’s Downtown Core.

“Aurea marks a new chapter of urban living in Singapore’s Downtown Core. It offers owner-occupiers and investors the opportunity to own a home in one of Singapore’s most exciting and transformative neighbourhoods and be part of a vibrant community that beautifully blends history with modern luxury.

Today’s homebuyers are looking for more than just a great location. They want a home that enhances their daily lives – one that is easy to get around, thoughtfully designed and facilities or spaces that inspire. Aurea delivers on all this. Each home is crafted to feel open, bright and connected to nature, with stunning views of the bay, city skyline and greenery. It’s a space where you can thrive.

Aurea’s location is also truly special. Imagine being right in the middle of it all – close to the cultural buzz of Bugis, the energy at the financial heart of Marina Bay and the relaxed waterfront vibe of Kallang. It’s a rare mix that offers something for everyone, whether you are looking for a quiet retreat in the city or easy access to the best experiences Singapore has to offer.”

Rejuvenated as The Golden Mile, it will house a vibrant hub featuring retail spaces, offices, and medical suites, creating a community-centric destination for work, leisure and connection.

As part of the Urban Redevelopment Authority (URA)’s Community/Sports Facilities Scheme (CSFS), an Architecture Centre will be established within The Golden Mile to celebrate the past, present and future of Singapore’s build environment, fostering public appreciation for the nation’s rich architectural design legacy.

Strategically located in Singapore’s Downtown Core, it provides residents with seamless connectivity and access to vibrant cultural, retail, and lifestyle hubs.

The Golden Mile will implement a suite of sustainable strategies that exceed the Building and Construction Authority (BCA) Green Mark Platinum standards, such as a naturally ventilated atrium spine with assisted fans, innovative spot cooling in the atrium with smart temperature sensing, and highly efficient chiller plant and air-distribution systems. It will also implement a smart energy management system, daylight harvesting, a smart LED lighting system with demand control, carpark LED lighting with motion sensors and the use of renewable energy via solar photovoltaic panels.

The consortium, consisting of Perennial Holdings Private Limited and Far East Organization, appointed DP Architects in collaboration with Studio Lapis, a specialist in architectural conservation, to realise its vision of transforming Golden Mile Singapore into a future-ready development that blends heritage with modern innovation.
